

AI & AUTOMATION

We replaced a marketing hire with a Second Brain

One build. A fraction of the cost. Runs itself.

THE GAP

XO3D has never had a dedicated marketing professional

Most studios either hire one or do nothing.
We chose a third option: build the function
from scratch using AI.

THE DECISION

A hire costs a salary. A build costs the setup.

Once the system runs, the ongoing cost is roughly a tenth of a marketing salary.

Probably less. The economics are not close.

THE TRADEOFF

The setup is the hard part

It is not quick and it is not simple. But the question is not whether the setup is easy. It is whether the long-term position is better. It is.

WHAT IT DOES

It handles what a marketing person would

Content production, scheduling, distribution.
Powered by AI. Built into the operational layer of the business. Not bolted on.

THE POSITION

Not having a marketing team is only a problem if you treat it as one

We treated it as a brief.
